Project visits

Project visit 1: KoBra

The City of Ghent wanted to give back the Korenmarkt its former function of a central open space. Instead of the crossing of different streets it once was, the whole square now has the same pavement. The stops for public transport are moved to surrounding streets. The project included renovations of the Korenmarkt, Braunplein, Gouden Leeuwplein en Poeljemarkt.

The most eye-catching part of the renovations of this central part of the city is the construction of 'De Stadshal' a gigantic awning that can be used for all sorts of public events. It includes bicycle storage, public toilets, a city bistro, and a foyer for artists. It's a modern interpretation of an historic Cloth Hall. By the people of Ghent it is known as the 'sheep stable'.

Budget Total budget: EUR 18 million, thereof EU budget € 2,3 million (ERDF)

Venue Poeljemarkt, 9000 Gent

This is a huge city development project where former docklands are transferred to a new part of the city with housing, public spaces, schools, offices etc. This project combines funding of both, ERDF mainstream and Interreg. ERDF was used to renovate the ancient quay walls. At their office there is an exposition on the development of the Oude Dokken neighbourhood, which includes a model of the area.

Project visit 3: Winter Circus

The Winter circus is a former indoor circus constructed in the 19th century. In the 1950ies, it was renovated by a car dealer. After the card dealership closed in 1978 it was used as a storehouse for classic cars and got abandoned.

In June 2017 the city of Ghent started the renovation of this historical building. In the future the building will be used to host technology companies, start-ups and scale-ups. It will include a concert hall for 500 people, an auditorium and several meeting rooms.

To gether with the construction of the new library, the renovation of the winter circus fits in the reconversion of this central part in the city.

Tramline 1 (Tram stop Gravensteen): this is a direct connection between the city centre and the train station of Ghent Sint-Pieters and the most convenient one. There is a connection every 6 minutes.

A ticket costs € 3,00. You can also buy a sms ticket which will cost you € 2,15. To do so, sms 'DL' to 4884 before you get on the tram. Tickets are valid for one hour.

There is an app from 'De Lijn' that looks up the easiest way for you. You're also able to buy a mobile card via the app, which is the cheapest option.

Tramline 4 (Tram stop Lange Steenstraat) Direct connection to 'De Zuid' where many bus and tram connections can be found.

Background information

Flanders

Flanders is the northern federated state of Belgium with Brussels as its capital. It covers an area of 13.522 km<sup>2</sup> and has 6.58 million inhabitants. It is a gateway to Europe and is located at less than 500 km from major European capitals. It shares its own capital with the EU, NATO and numerous other international institutions and companies.

Together with the renowned seaports, the extensive railway and road network, the productive and highly educated population, the excellent healthcare and the R&D-friendly climate, this is what makes Flanders unique in Europe.

Belgium has been a federated country since the reforms of 1993. The country is divided into three territorial Regions (Flanders, Wallonia and Brussels-Capital Region) and language-based Communities (Dutch, French and German) in line with these language groups, with Brussels as the capital of the federal state of Flanders.

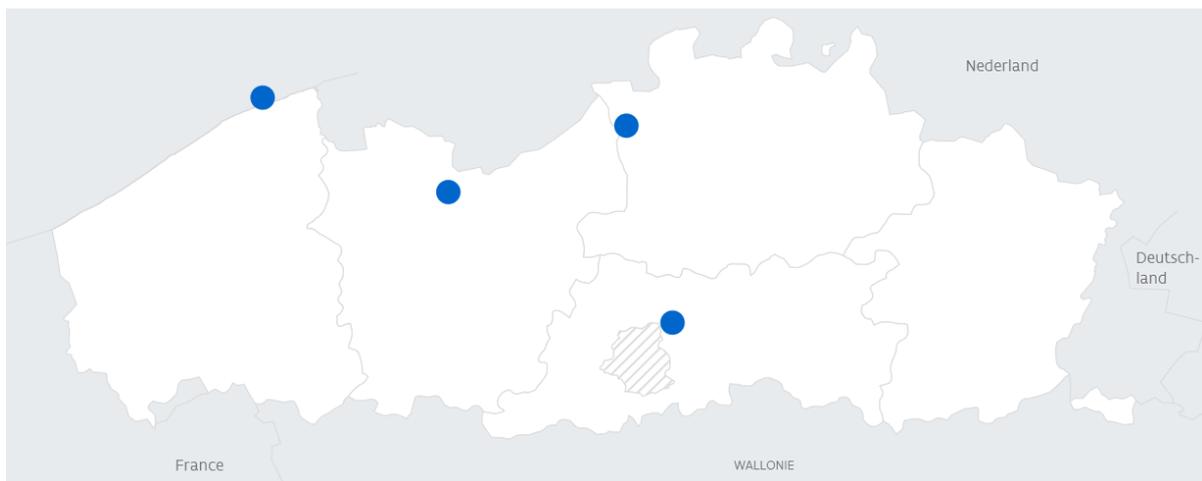

The Region and Community of Flanders have a common Parliament and a Government. This federal state of Flanders has its own legislative and executive powers and is the autonomous northern region of Belgium with broad and exclusive domestic and international responsibilities. Flanders has a unicameral legislature. The legislative and monitoring power rests with the Flemish Parliament, which is directly elected by the people of Flanders every five years.

Flanders enjoys complete autonomy in numerous domains, because the Government of Flanders and the federal government are on an equal footing and their powers do not overlap. Flanders is responsible for economics, foreign trade, healthcare, energy distribution, housing, agriculture and horticulture, the environment, public works and transport, employment, culture and education, science and innovation. Flanders pursues a foreign policy regarding all of its competences and is able to conclude bilateral and multilateral treaties. Its exchange with other countries is promoted not only by its diplomatic representatives worldwide, but also by approximately 100 representatives who specialise in trade and investment promotion, agriculture and tourism.

Flanders consists of 5 provinces, each with its own provincial capital. From west to east:

- West Flanders (Bruges);
- East Flanders (Ghent);
- Flemish Brabant (Leuven);
- Antwerp (Antwerp);
- Limburg (Hasselt).

Flanders is the gateway to Europe. In addition to a productive and highly qualified population and a research and investment-friendly climate, Flanders possesses an extensive rail and road network as well as several large ports.

Main objectives

The Programme aims to boost economic growth in the region and to contribute to achieving the Europe 2020 targets for smart, sustainable and inclusive growth. Through investments that will support the knowledge economy, SMEs and the transition towards a low carbon economy, it should create jobs and boost productivity.

Funding priorities

The programme contains five priority axes and six thematic objectives, namely

- strengthening research technological development and innovation (OT1);
- enhancing the competitiveness of SMEs (OT3);
- supporting the shift towards a low carbon economy (OT4);
- promoting climate change adaptation (OT5);
- preserving and protecting the environment and promoting resource efficiency (OT6);
- promoting social inclusion, combating poverty and any discrimination (OT9).

Major financial effort, namely 90% of the total allocation, goes to RTD, SMEs and low-carbon economy, of which 40% goes to RTD. The remaining 10% of the total financial allocation goes to urban development. Special attention is given to the development of living labs and spreading new innovative technologies through demonstration projects as well as to housing renovation to an energy-neutral level and sustainable urban mobility systems. Social inclusion is targeted with small-scale urban projects in less developed urban districts, that will have an economic leverage effect. An integrated territorial development approach is guaranteed through three integrated territorial investments tools (ITI) which address specific territorial socio-economic problems. The means earmarked for the three ITIs represent 45% of the total allocation.

Expected impacts

- Increase the share of SMEs with innovative products, processes, marketing or organisations from 62 to 70% of total of SMEs
- Increase the share of turnover due to new or innovative products or services from 7.5% to 10%
- Increase the Entrepreneurial Employee Activity (EEA) from 9.40% to 12%
- Reduction of Greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from housing with 5.3 ton CO<sub>2</sub>-eq and reduction of GHG emission in transport with 1 ton CO<sub>2</sub>-eq
- Renovate 1300 m<sup>2</sup> of public domain in less developed urban areas

Regional Operational Programme ESF Flanders 2014-2020

Main objectives

The (OP) aims to complement the existing Flemish employment and social inclusion initiatives and encourage innovative social measures and transnational cooperation. The programme – which is worth over EUR 1 billion in total – will also support a number of focused actions that target entrepreneurship, the social economy, poorly skilled young people and Roma.

Funding priorities

There are several priorities in the OP for Flanders:

1. Promoting projects for sustainable, high-quality jobs and worker mobility; and investing in education, training and lifelong learning. These areas will attract some 60% of total funding and complement the Flemish career management policy which seeks a more effective labour market. In particular, ESF projects will focus on the important transition points in individual career paths.
2. Some 20% of funding will support social inclusion, equality and anti-poverty projects. Projects will target the pathways into work and society for the most at-risk groups, such as Roma.
3. Structural measures to encourage older people to continue working, or take up a new job, will be promoted at Federal and Flemish levels. ESF projects for 'active ageing' will complement these, helping companies create attractive environments for older workers.

In addition, the ESF will drive existing efforts for transnational cooperation and innovation – further developing and professionalising these priority activities. Overall, the Flanders OP is expected to help some 250 000 people to find a job, start a company or take up education and training opportunities.
